[The text is in Georgian and is structured into several sections, each containing multiple paragraphs. The content appears to be news articles or reports, possibly discussing current events, political matters, or social issues. Due to the nature of the content, a direct translation cannot be provided without losing context or accuracy. The text is dense with information, indicating comprehensive coverage of the topics at hand.]